Kuala Lumpur Welcomes AIESEC Alumni

157 alumni from 25 countries arrived in Kuala Lumpur to attend the AIESEC Alumni Global Conference, organised by AIESEC Alumni Malaysia and AAI.

All reports we've heard have been unanimous!: The organising committee did an outstanding job of not only putting together an exciting agenda, but also winning the hearts and minds of all delegates with warm Malaysian hospitality. Special thanks also to Mr. Hiro Kinashi for all his work behind the scenes contributing to the success of the event.

AIESEC in Armenia Turns 20!

AIESEC in Armenia celebrated its 20th anniversary on September 4th-5th. The occasion also saw the launch of the initiative to establish AIESEC Alumni Armenia, which will focus on youth and entrepreneurship.

Special guests included founders and alumni of AIESEC in Armenia, who are now eminent contributors to society: Minister of Economy, Nerses Yeritsyan, Vice Minister of Economy, Vahe Danielyan and UN Deputy Chief (Africa Section), Armen Vahradyan, among others. Read more.

NEW AAI 'Webinar' Events

In response to member feedback, AIESEC Alumni International is introducing a new service available to all alumni. In partnership with PPV Knowledge Networks, founded and run by a fellow alumnus, AAI will soon be launching a series of online video seminars, or "webinars", on various professional and social topics presented by renowned AIESEC alumni and experts from around the world.

We'd like to take this opportunity to ask for your input and preferences, and would be grateful if you could take 5 minutes to answer a brief survey.

On Sunday, AIESEC Alumni volunteered their time to clean and paint the interior of the children's home, Shelter One. The children were overjoyed to see strangers from around the world working to beautify the home. The initiative was widely appreciated; read the coverage in The Star, Malaysia's largest English daily.
